

Domestic PPE Information Days

July 14 – 15, 2020

Overview: On Tuesday, July 14 and Wednesday, July 15, the Department of Defense's COVID-19 Joint Acquisition Task Force (JATF) and the Defense Logistics Agency (DLA), in coordination with interagency partners, will host a virtual information day regarding current and future demand for personal protective equipment (PPE).

Goal: Provide current and potential suppliers of PPE an understanding of PPE requirements from across multiple sectors of the economy, including the U.S. government and trade associations representing medical and non-medical industry. We also plan to facilitate a dialogue between industry and the government regarding how current investments in domestic production may be supported by government and industry's long-term planning for consumption of domestically produced PPE.

Target audience: Current and potential domestic producers of PPE (end-items as well as sub-tier suppliers of material) and consumers of PPE, namely major industry trade associations and hospital and medical network representatives.

Location: Virtual event (Zoom webcast, specific details will be provided upon registration)
